

deal of sorrow. There is no question of that.

"It is advisable for the couple to go out together in the evenings when the man gets home instead of one going one way and the other another way. They should go to the theater or the nickel shows together. They should have more confidence in each other."

Judge Sabath smiled. "That is a pretty general statement, but you know every case must be handled differently. Every one is different. The woman is sometimes at fault; sometimes it is the man. Sometimes both are to blame.

"They are not bad at heart, they are just ill-advised. Most of them come in here out of little meanness or misunderstanding between themselves or ill-advice from others, an outside influence.

"If they were left alone they would get along all right. They just need a little encouragement, a little good advice."

BRITISH AIR FLEET ACTIVE— TRAWLER TORPEDOED

London.—British aviators are running wild over the German trenches in Belgium. Scores are passing and repassing over German lines, some penetrating well into German territory. Railway signal bases have been bombarded successfully, interfering with schedule running of trains.

Gen. French mentions an attack April 19 on a great aeroplane shed, designed to house two or more of the latest type of Zeppelins, just outside of Ghent. He declares that a great explosion took place in the shed, interpreted as meaning that the dirigibles inside of it were destroyed.

Grimsby, Eng.—Trawler St. Lawrence torpedoed and sunk in North sea by German submarine. Two of crew drowned.

London.—Indian office declares that the defeat of the Turks at Shaiba, near the Persian gulf is far more complete than the earlier advices indicated. Losses are now placed at 6,000.

Petrograd.—Russian dirigibles now being used to harrass Gen. von Hindenburg's lines of communication. One of them bombarded German positions near Plock on Thursday, dropping 15 bombs on enemy's transports, badly damaging them. Several German boats on Vistula also were sunk. Two other dirigibles dropped bombs on railway station at Mlawa and on German aerodrome at Niniky, causing great damage.

London.—Turkish defeat by British at Saiba, in province of Mesopotamia, more complete than fire reports indicated. Turks in full retreat, leaving behind them 6,000 dead and thousands of wounded. Turkish commander committed suicide. Arab deserters are now in full pursuit of retreating Turkish forces.

Petrograd.—Czar arrived at Lemberg today enroute to inspect Russian front in Galicia and Carpathians. It is stated that because of melting snow and spring rains campaign generally is at standstill. Center of exchanges is still Uszok pass, where additional fresh Russian troops have been brought up, and Bukowina front.

She—Every time I begin to talk to you, you sit down. It's very rude.

He—I know it, my dear. But I am physically unable to stand for that length of time.
